WITH THE ENGINEERS

CORPORAL FRANK LITTELL
WRITES FROM FRANCE TO
GLENDALE FRIEND

Corp. Frank Littell of 1100 Dryden street, Glendale, who went to France last fall with the 117th Engineers, writes to Jesse E. Smith, with whom he was formerly associated in the Ford Agency here.

Dear Jesse: Just a very few words before taps sound from "Somewhere in France" and from one who is thinking of the folks at home.

Am feeling fine and dandy, Jesse, and I don't think that I would accept a million dollars for my experiences so far. This little old game of war is a great game and a real man's game, and the biggest game I ever expect to play. When I speak of the game as a "real man's game," I do not mean to insinuate that we are all men that play it. A great many of us play "at it." We who play "at it" are learning something every day and I am convinced that when I leave the army I will be a bigger man than I was when I entered it.

I can't tell you much of what we are doing, Jesse. Mr. Censor says so and he is boss. No doubt he will allow me to tell you that we are working hard, very hard—harder than selling Fords by far. But I'm getting fat at it, so why complain? We had a real California day today. Fine to have a warm day sandwiched into the midst of winter. Couldn't help feeling homesick.

But after this spring drive, after we "go over the top" and into Berlin, we'll all come marching home, back to California, back to little old Glendale. And when I get back, there I am going to stay for some little time. France may be all right when written up in story books and fairy tales, but not for me. I have already slept in ninety per cent of the barns in France (they call it billeting "over here"), but give me U. S. A. any time and at all times.

But "we'll wind up the watch on the Rhine" in this spring drive. I'm getting the fighting spirit in earnest now. The Boche raided a town that we were formerly in the other day and killed a friend of mine. It is these incidents that make determination, Jesse.

Præ writes that you hung a service flag in my honor. Thanks very (Continued on Page 2)

EXEMPTION BOARD

REGISTRANTS ARE CALLED FOR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION ON WEDNESDAY

Another physical examination has been set for Wednesday and notices have been sent to fifteen or twenty delinquent registrants to appear before the local physicians at that time, also men whose claims for exemption have been under consideration by the District Board which has sustained the verdict of the local Board. In such cases the men are automatically placed in Class 1.

Speaking of delinquents and slackers, provision is made that when located they forfeit all right to a deferred class and are entered in Class 1 regardless of any claims they might have originally had to exemption. But when brought before the examining physicians they may be rejected. In that case no penalty seems to be prescribed for all the trouble they have made officers of the law, which hardly seems to be just.

Also, many of the delinquents, in fact the majority under this and other Southern California Boards, are aliens. Much time is expended by officers searching for them, very few are located, but the most of them are Mexicans and a floating class of men, here today, somewhere else tomorrow, and when found they can not be made to serve because they are aliens. If they could be put into the army no commanding officer would want them because they would be unreliable. It all seems to many persons like a lot of superfluous red tape, though it is probably well to have some record of this portion of our population even if it can not afterwards be located.

IOWA MAN DIES HERE

Fred C. Brandt of Rock Valley, Iowa, passed away in Glendale Monday at noon after an extended illness. Mr. Brandt came here two months ago in the hope of benefiting his health. Two sons were with him at the last, one of them on leave of absence from Camp Dodge.

The remains are at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors. They will be shipped to Rock Valley, Iowa, for burial.

PLANTING PARKWAYS

SHOULD BE USED FOR FLOWERS
OR SHRUBS TO BEAUTIFY
CITY

What to do with the parkways is quite a problem. Some of them which are cared for by persons ambitious to make their surroundings attractive, are beautiful gardens, but many are either waste places whereon nothing grows, or are pre-empted by weeds with an eye to the main chance and when these get too unsightly either the city or the property owners have them mowed and burn the tops.

Mr. Watson, the City Manager, would like to see the problem solved in a way which would protect the walks against deposits of soil and for that reason does not particularly favor the garden idea. In speaking of the matter he said: "If the city had the money to take over the parkways and a strip of frontage adjoining the walk and put them into lawn, it would be well worth doing if they could be taken care of by the city and the cost taxed against the property, but to take care of them out of our general fund for forestry now, would be impracticable."

"Our Forestry Department will plant between 1000 and 1500 new trees this year. Some time ago when the census of our trees was taken, we found we had an average of one tree to each inhabitant. We are planting acacias, camphor trees, and live oaks in the parkways. On Verdugo Road we planted live oaks fifty feet apart with cherry trees, which we thought would make rapid growth, in between, but some of the live oaks grew faster than the cherry trees, part of them that are less than four years of age attaining a height of twenty feet. We have several hundred Carob trees (St. John's Bread). They grow very fast and have a habit similar to the oak. The Los Angeles County Forestry Department has planted some of these on Verdugo Road through La Canada."

There appears to be no disposition on the part of the city to restrict property owners in the use of the parkways and since these places are better adapted to flowers or greenery than to gardens, it might be well to reserve them for that purpose and make our city streets beautiful in that way, leaving more space in the private grounds for utility gardens of potatoes, carrots, etc. The plantings in parkways should be low growing plants or trailers. If just a green covering is desired, nothing is more beautiful than the peanut, and the returns from a well-cared-for plantation would considerably more than pay for the seed and care. The ivy-leaved geranium is another lovely covering for parkways because it is a constant bloomer. Dwarf nasturtiums give a succession of bloom and the leafage is handsome. The trailing lantanas are most effective and are constant bloomers. Tall annuals which bloom but once, as for instance poppies, are not to be recommended. They are lovely for a brief time but soon have to be replaced. One of the most beautiful of all covers is the portulaca, which comes in every color and is gorgeous as an oriental carpet under the morning sun.

DEATH OF MORRIS P. LIGHT

Morris Paul Light departed this life at his home, 639 Gardena avenue, March 11th, at the age of 71 years, three months and six days. He left to mourn his departure a wife, Mrs. Ella B. Light, and two sons, Colonel H. V. Light of San Francisco, and William H. Light.

Mr. Light was for many years a traveling salesman, leaving that occupation to take up other lines of business. His health completely failing within the past few weeks, he was confined to his bed until his passing. He leaves many friends who will share the grief of his family. Funeral arrangements will be announced later upon the arrival of Colonel Light. The Jewel City Undertaking Company will have charge.

DEATH OF LITTLE NORMAN PETTITT

Norman Walter Pettitt, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Walter Pettitt, died Sunday afternoon at 5:30 at the family home, 860 Cerritos street, Long Beach, of meningitis. Mr. and Mrs. Pettitt resided in Glendale until a few weeks ago, when they moved to Long Beach, where Mr. Pettitt is employed in the ship yards. Their Glendale friends will sympathize with them in their hour of sorrow.

The remains are at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors in Glendale. Final arrangements have not been completed but funeral services will be held in Forest Lawn cemetery, the time to be decided later.

NEW DRAFT RULINGS

NINETY-FIVE THOUSAND MORE MEN WILL START MOVING TO TRAINING CAMPS MARCH 29

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Eight hundred thousand men of the so-called second draft will be the national quota to be sent into the military mill in small groups from week to week and month to month, according to official announcement. This vast number will be divided into state quotas. Certain exceptions will be drawn from Class 1 to make replacements in existing units. Ten thousand young men have been asked already and 10,000 others will be summoned this summer to go into training schools to be fitted for special work. Agriculturists will be given deferred ratings.

No date has been set for the second draft. The system provides that those who are skilled in mechanical pursuits be taken from line regiments and assigned where skill is needed.

Ninety-five thousand more men have been ordered by the war department to prepare for induction into the training camps. The movement will start March 29. This last increment of the first draft will include the mobilization of 28,000 negroes of the south to northern camps.

Because of peculiar camp situations some districts which have completed their quotas will be asked to furnish more men and will be given credit for these under the second draft.

Today's order takes men from all states except Iowa and Minnesota. Arizona will have to contribute 148 and California 1745.

WOMEN JURORS

MRS. BARTLETT AND MRS. EVARTS DRAWN FOR SERVICE UNDER JUDGE CRAIG

Two Glendale women have been drawn for jury service of about two months in the Superior Court, Department 18, under Judge Craig. They are Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of 101 South Brand boulevard and Mrs. Evarts of Central avenue. Mrs. Evarts has thus far been excused from service but Mrs. Bartlett was called last week to pass on the case of a Mexican found guilty of stealing an automobile. Judge Craig's docket is made up of criminal cases and about ten women jurors have been called for the sixty-day service.

Mrs. Bartlett could perhaps have begged off as her services are badly needed at the Red Cross Chapter as they depend upon her for buying their supplies, but as she is not continuously in the court room, she is managing to cover both assignments. Having for many years been an advocate of giving women full citizenship, she could not reconcile her conscience to making any effort to shirk jury duty and so made no plea for exemption. It will probably be an interesting experience and it will be fortunate if our first women jurors are all as conscientious as is Mrs. Bartlett.

LETTERS FROM FRANCE

Rev. W. S. Blackburn of 235 Cedar street has been made happy by the receipt of letters from his grandson, Donald Dow, who is now in France with the Gas and Flame Engineering Corps. Three letters came Monday, the first he has received since the boy landed, and they are very welcome.

Donald is a bright young fellow who was taking a post-graduate course in the State University of Nebraska, which he left in June to enter the service. He took a Normal School course which he finished when only nineteen years of age and was graduated from the State University of Nebraska before he was twenty-one. He has been a practical chemist, and is well equipped for his present work. He has two cousins who are graduates of Ann Arbor, one, Caspar K. Blackburn, is a Lieutenant, the other, Paul Blackburn, is a Commander. Another grandson of Mr. Blackburn's, Harold Lamson of Corona, is a Sergeant at Camp Lewis. He was graduated from the Glendale Grammar Schools.

FAIRBANKS' CASE OPEN

Douglas Fairbanks did not appear before Judge Lowe Monday morning to answer to the charge of exceeding the speed limit in the driving of an automobile on Colorado street. Instead the judge received a communication from Ivan Kelso of the Southern Automobile Club, acting as attorney for Mr. Fairbanks and submitting a letter by the defendant in which he practically pleaded guilty, but urged in extenuation of his offense that he was running fast in order to meet a Red Cross appointment. The judge took the matter under advisement for two days and will render his decision Wednesday morning. As it is the policy of the City Recorder's Court to give considerable latitude to men who are unselfishly serving the government in connection with the war, Mr. Fairbanks' plea will no doubt have proper consideration. The judge did not fine a member of the local Exemption Board who broke the speed laws after a long, hard day at the headquarters of the Board in which he went without his dinner. Under those circumstances the judge ruled he was excusable for hurrying home to get the comfort and cheer of a good meal following such a fatiguing day in the public service.

ENTHUSIASTIC WORKERS

Rain in no respect dampened the enthusiasm of members of the surgical dressings class who have enrolled under the instruction of Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., of the Tropico Red Cross Auxiliary. Fifteen were present Monday afternoon and all the tables were full at the previous meeting, Thursday evening. They are doing fine work and their teacher is immensely proud of their output. A Wednesday afternoon class has been organized and it seems probable that the regular members will attend all three sessions. The ladies who are working regularly are Mesdames Mary Ayers, Hal Davenport, Ed Ayers, L. M. Goodrich, Clyde Carmack, Frank Ashton, G. M. Adams, S. E. Brown, Riley Hogue, John Hobbs, M. Voll, Andrew Stephenson, C. A. Barker, A. O. Gallup, Mrs. Stillman and Miss Gallup. The ladies are making 4x8 compresses.

NEW BUSINESS METHODS

IMPORTANT CHANGES TO BE MADE IN COUNTY'S FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

The legal departments of Los Angeles County have rendered three new opinions which will necessitate important changes of the county's financial management:

1. That the expenses of each fiscal year, i. e., the twelve months ending June 30, must all be borne out of the revenues of that year—from taxes levied in the preceding September, and not collected until November, five months after the year for which they are levied has begun.
2. That the funds on hand at the end of a fiscal year can not be used, as heretofore, to carry the county government from July to November, so long as there are outstanding claims for the preceding year.
3. That when the treasurer has no balance in a particular fund, warrants on that fund must not be paid, but must be registered and five per cent interest paid on them until called for payment.

None of these rules had ever been followed, the first one having been disregarded in every county in California except Mendocino. The present Board of Supervisors, desiring to comply with the laws, has adopted the plan of stretching the road revenues for the current year over seventeen months instead of twelve. By so doing they will avoid registering warrants issued for road work, save five per cent interest for the taxpayers, and put the county on a technically correct legal basis. To accomplish this, however, much road work will have to be delayed for several months.

JOHN J. HAMILTON,
Chairman of Board of Supervisors.

POISONING DOGS

Reports have come before the public that dogs are being poisoned in the locality of First street between Central avenue and Columbus. Up to date four dogs have been the harvest of the poison distributor, and who knows when the destruction of these friendly and innocent animals will cease. He is a pretty mean man who will poison dogs in a promiscuous way.

FUN IN THE SNOW

BABY MARIE OSBORNE, THE MOVIE ACTRESS, GOES TO CAMP BALDY FOR FROLIC

Glendale's own movie queen, Baby Marie Osborne, has been enjoying an outing at Camp Baldy, where she went with her mother and friends to have some sport in the snow. The snow was there in quantities and the party had enough fun to last them for a long time.

"Daddy's Girl," another Diando picture with a number of Glendale children in the cast, has been released by Pathe and will be shown by Manager Jensen some time in the future. This release will be followed by "A Daughter of the West," and then "Dolly Does Her Bit," will be released. This latter is the story where Baby Marie Osborne takes the place of a doll which is accidentally broken, and is sold at auction at a Red Cross bazaar. This starts a number of exciting incidents wherein the young star is the heroine.

"The Soul of a Child" is the new story now being made with Baby Marie at the studio.

Director Stuart Paton will start work next Monday at the Diando studios on a 30-real serial for Pathe, the working title of which will be "The Wolf-faced Man." George Larkin will be the leading man, and among the cast are Horace Carpenter, True Boardman and Frederick Malatasta. It was written by W. A. S. Douglas and Lucien Hubbard, and is a western story of the period of 1860-70.

The United States Marine recruiting service is using a picture of Baby Marie Osborne to help enlistments. The officers in charge say the campaign is proving very successful. The picture has already been used in more than 100 newspapers in California and Arizona.

A photograph and pair of silk stockings donated by Baby Marie Osborne brought $25 at the Red Cross sale held at Garner, Iowa, the latter part of February.

W. A. S. Douglas, president of Diando, is in New York on a hurried business trip.

John H. English and wife are now living at 885 Damasco court. Mr. English is publicity editor for the Diando Film Corporation.

BRITISH FOOD LAWS HAVE TEETH IN THEM

If you care to spend about $960 in fines and rest three months in an English jail, all you have to do is violate some of Great Britain's stringent food laws.

Should you want to be as kind hearted as the English vicar, one Rev. E. A. Phillips, by aiding the secretary of a training camp for disabled soldiers to secure more than his due allowance of sugar, then part with the first $100. The kind vicar, after due process of law, paid just that much for his crime.

The next thing you have to do to start your three months in jail is to take several sleek and fine looking pigs and feed them on a ration of bread and meal, as their proud possessor, Frederick Moore, of Oxenhope, did. Three months in jail. Charge: Using bread otherwise than for human food.

If you don't care to lose another $10 in fines you should remember that the British government requires sworn statements of the amounts of sugar required by individuals for preserving fruits. Should your demand be greater than that required by the fruits you want to preserve, then pay another $10, like the Rev. John Hopkins, of Brentford, who demanded 36 pounds of sugar to preserve plums from four plum trees in his orchard.

The remainder of the $960 you can surrender to the British courts of justice by committing the following crimes:

Serve milk and bread as breakfast for your pet dogs, $25.

Throw just three pieces of bread in a garbage can and let the English police find them there, $25.

Keep a grocery store at Cardiff, Wales, and say to a customer, "I will not sell you any sugar unless you buy a larger quantity of goods," and then hand him back his ration card (—) $250.

Sell a pound of mutton for 1 cent more than the price prescribed by the British Ministry of Food, $250.

Be a prominent resident of Sunningdale, England, and obtain a larger quantity of sugar than necessary to entertain your friends at tea, $125.

Offer a higher price for slaughtered hogs than that prescribed by law, and pay, in addition to court costs, $125.

And finally, if you want to retain your last $50 just take a lesson from John Reiff, the enterprising baker in Red Lion street, London, who, to met his customers' demand, sold bread baked just a few hours before. Fifty dollars fine. Charge: Selling bread that had not been baked for 12 hours, as required by the bread law in England.

IS TURKEY TO GET OUT?

With the Breslau sunk and the Goeben damaged, the Turkish fleet ceases for the time to be a factor even in the Black Sea. And perhaps one of the most powerful arguments for Turkey's remaining in the war is gone. There seems to be little doubt that the Goeben and Breslau, interned off the Golden Horn in the early months of the war, served as the rallying points for German influence in Constantinople.

It has even been asserted that it was the guns of the two cruisers trained on the city that compelled the weak and cowardly Turkish government to take up arms on the side of Germany. Whether this is true or not, it can hardly be doubted that those ships, with their power to destroy the Turkish capital, have been of incalculable value to the governing Germanophile party in the hours of popular despair.

The question naturally arises, why were these two invaluable instruments of German control permitted to go cruising outside the Dardanelles? The damage they could inflict on the allied patrol vessels was negligible. Were the Turks trying to rid themselves of these ships, in order to recover for themselves the right of self determination?—New Republic.

The Government is today the greatest employer of labor in the United States, not considering railroad employees. In normal times approximately 400,000 civilians are employed, and in the last year the number has increased to 600,000. In comparison, one steel corporation employs 300,000 men, and one railroad 250,000.

"Stars and Stripes" is the name of the weekly newspaper being published in France for the American troops, under the direction of the intelligence section. Practically the entire paper is devoted to American news, including a daily radio report of about 1,400 words supplied by the Committee on Public Information to the French Government.

In an announcement by the Food Administration the cause for advance in rice prices is attributed to the fact that most rice mills have been running to full capacity in order to supply the demand for 1,000,000 bags for American and allied fighting forces. As a result, the normal supply for home consumption has been temporarily reduced. Lower prices are forecasted.

Plans of the American Library Association include the establishment of book and library service in Army and Navy hospitals in America and France.

PERCENTAGE OF SLACKERS IN U. S. IS SMALL

In his report to the Secretary of War on the operation of the first draft under the selective-service act, Provost Marshal General Crowder says:

During the interim between the enactment of the selective-service law and registration day the Department of Justice and local peace officers throughout the Nation, especially the police departments of the larger cities, feeling somewhat apprehensive of the spirit in which this novel and untried method of raising our armies would be accepted, exercised the greatest care in providing for ample co-operation with the selective-draft officials for the speedy and effective registration of eligibles, which was, in fact, the first step in the mobilization of the National Army.

Few Threats of Resistance

During the fortnight preceding registration day an occasional threat of resistance was reported, but on June 5 nearly 10,000,000 males of the designated ages were successfully registered. So willing were the registrants to demonstrate their approval of the new order and to support the Government in the emergency that throughout the 62 Federal district jurisdictions, practically the entire United States, up to December 1 we find a total of only 5,870 arrests made or reported by the Department of Justice for failure to register.

Policy of Leniency

The authorities early assumed an attitude of leniency toward all those who, after arrest, exhibited a willingness to register, and extended the locus penitentia as far as possible, believing that the purpose of the law was to secure a full registration rather than full jails. Consequently 2,663 of those apprehended were released after having registered, and prosecutions begun against 2,995, of which 1,645 cases are still pending. It is noteworthy that of those released or prosecuted, 3,236 have actually been registered, and in the final analysis but 0.00026 of males between 21 and 30, inclusive, have failed to register.

There were some cases of persons aiding those subject to registration to evade or to attempt to evade the law, and on charges of this nature 180 arrests were made, of which 34 were convicted and heavy sentences usually imposed; 21 cases resulted in acquittals. There are still pending 98 cases of this kind.

After the registration came the call for the physical examination of registrants for military service in the order of their liability. To the Department of Justice and local police officials fell the duty of locating the whereabouts and apprehending those civilians who had not responded to this summons. The department of Justice, up to December 1, had reported to it 14,212 registrants who had failed to appear for physical examination at the various local boards throughout the United States. Of this number 149 were arrested, and 813 were transferred to be dealt with under the rules established for cases of this kind. The final data on this subject will undoubtedly show that the number of those who willfully refrained from reporting is comparatively insignificant.

Of the 156 district and 4,557 local boards organized and established throughout the country for the execution of the selective-service law, the Department of Justice notes few bona fide complaints and reports a negligible number of prosecutions against members thereof.

Antidraft Agitators Penalized

Of individuals indulging in anti-draft propaganda throughout the country, 343 prosecutions are reported, with heavy penalties imposed in practically all cases where convictions resulted, there being 105 of these cases now pending.

In a few Federal districts efforts have been made to bring before the courts for review on writs of mandamus or habeas corpus, the action of the local and district boards in holding registrants to service. These cases have usually involved claims for exemption from the operation of the selective-service law by reason of alienage, and attempts were made to have certain adjudications of selective-draft officials repudiated by court order.

Courts Supporting Boards

The trend of decisions in these cases, however, has been to support the findings of the local and district boards in instances where full and fair hearings have been afforded to the registrants, it being generally held that the jurisdiction of the board is the proper one for the determination of these questions, and that the court will not interfere where a registrant has been given an opportunity to be heard. All courts have generally been of the opinion that ample time for the presentation of claims for discharge or exemption was provided by the regulations, and that a claimant must establish his case within the time prescribed.

WIDE AWAKE ESKIMOS

The Eskimos are rapidly learning the value of money. The day has long gone by when they would give a polar bear skin or a bale of foxskins for a fishhook. They now know the value of their furs and bring them to the best markets.—Argonaut.

GOES TO IDAHO

E. Blackford of 802 South Verdugo Road, who has been a resident of Glendale for about three years, will leave Wednesday for Rupert, Idaho, in the southern part of that state, not far from Twin Falls. He has joined the army of food producers for Uncle Sam and will be busy on a general purpose ranch owned by a relative where large crops of potatoes, sugar beets and alfalfa will be raised. He is not disposing of his Glendale property as he hopes and expects to return and enjoy it again.

RIDDLE OF THE SPHYNX EXPLAINED

Dr. Riley's lecture Sunday at the New Thought Center was well worth coming out in the driving rain to hear. He quoted from Psalm 103, verses 15 and 16.

Our Bible is full of myths and riddles and written by men inspired by the Divine Spirit of God. The riddle of the Sphinx is one of the most ancient myths.

"What creature walks in the morning upon four feet, at noon upon two, and in the evening upon three?"

The answer is, "Man, as a baby on hands and knees, later, on his feet and, in old age, with a staff."

The Egyptian Sphinx, the best known to us, has the head of a man and faces the east, while the Grecian Sphinx has the head and bust of a woman, the wings of a bird, and the body of the wild beast.

The Greeks symbolized the soul as a woman, which is represented by the head of the sphynx; the wings and body symbolize the lower self, or the animal side of mankind.

We each have the wild beast in us and error is born of the lower self. The real man is the inward man or the higher self.

The more we resent the beast side the more we arouse it, and the more we fear it the more we develop it.

The word sphynx means to be throttled; error seems an awful power but begin to know yourself and to distinguish between the higher and lower self and throttle the error.

Learn to develop the soul side of your consciousness and thank God for the divine within.

Mrs. C. R. Carmack favored us with a solo, "He Knows the Way," accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Putnam.

Dr. Riley's lecture next Sunday will be of material benefit to all. His subject will be "The Fundamentals of Spiritual Healing."

much for the compliment. I appreciate your thoughtfulness.

I received your box of candy O. K. some time ago. I am ashamed of myself for not acknowledging your kindness sooner, but I really have been very busy. In fact, it is almost impossible for me to correspond with the folks.

Well, Jesse, I have just been handed a detail order so must look up my men and tell them to be ready to leave early in the morning.

I know that you are very busy, Jesse, but please try to steal a few minutes and drop me a nice letter. It will certainly be appreciated. Give my regards to all of my friends.

An effort has been made by the government to frustrate any attempt which may be made by tomato growers to combine and make a price of $20 a ton to canneries. A warning has been sent out from San Francisco that in receiving bids for the canned article the army and navy will not consider offerings in which the price of raw material is placed at more than $15 a ton. This should be of interest to the many tomato growers in the San Fernando valley.

ELSA COHN THREE YEARS OLD

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cohn, 110 Orange street, their daughter Elsa B. celebrated her third birthday Monday, March 11, with an elaborate party. Although the soft March rain was pattering down, it could not dampen the joy of the happy little children who gathered around their little hostess under the shaded lights amid the spring blossoms in the decorated rooms. The decorative motif was carried out in green and white and the place cards were suggestive of St. Patrick's day as they were St.
Patrick's hats.

Delicious refreshments were served
of chocolate, sandwiches, ice cream,
candy and a beautiful birthday cake holding three lighted candles. The favors were aluminum doll carriages for the girls and mounted soldiers for the boys.

Elsa was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts, some of them having been sent from Honolulu, Oakland and San Francisco.

The guests were Raymond and Edmund Scharman, Julius Goldstein,
George Freisleben, Melville Cohn,
Stanley Cummings, Alfred Levy, Alice Cohn, Jane Leighton, Ruth and Annette Birnbaum and the little hostess, Elsa.

Others who enjoyed the hospitality
of the Cohn home were Mesdames Herman Scharman, Joe Goldstein,
Alfred Levy, Mose Freisleben, Jessie Cummings, A. T. Cowan, S. Cahn,
J. Weisenberger, Morry Cohn, E. W.
Kinney, I. Birnbaum, Misses Cowan
and Waldo Cowan.

MISS SKIPTON TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

The funeral of Miss Mary Ida Skipton, who passed away at the residence of L. D. Chilson, San Pedro, on March 9th, will take place at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors tomorrow (Wednesday) at 2 p. m.
Miss Skipton is the niece of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton. She, together with her sister, Mrs. Sadie Zigler, came to California in October with the intention of making their home in Glendale. They were visiting in San Pedro when she was stricken with pneumonia.

Miss Skipton was a lifelong and devout member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, having united with that denomination in early youth. She was always interested in the various enterprises of the Church and gave herself without reserve to every good work.

Miss Skipton came from a family of Methodists and patriots. Her uncle, Rev. C. R. Norton, was a soldier of the Civil War, as were likewise another uncle and her own father. Her father was in the 92nd Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was in the fighting around Atlanta, where he was wounded and lost an arm.

Inheriting their father's and the family patriotism, Miss Skipton and her sister, Mrs. Zigler, have been earnest and enthusiastic workers in the G. A. R. Relief Corps work.

As the oldest of ten children, Miss Skipton gave herself with extreme devotion to ministering and helping her mother care for the younger members of the family. Her devotion and work in this direction was beautiful to behold.

The service tomorrow will be in charge of Rev. Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Grice, pastor of the Methodist Church of San Pedro.

Burial will be in the Norton family lot in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

FUNERAL OF H. C. FENSTER- MAKER

Services over the remains of H. C.
Fenstermaker, who died at his home,
145 South Central avenue, March 4th, were held at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors Monday morning at ten o'clock and were conducted by Rev. R. W. Mottern of the Lutheran Church, the text of his sermon being from St. John, 13:7, "What I do thou shalt not know but thou shalt know hereafter." It was especially designed for the consolation of the friends of the deceased and he dwelt on the hand of God in human affairs which we can not always understand but which is always for the best.

A quartette from the Lutheran Church, composed of John Esterly,
Helen Esterly, R. W. and Elizabeth Mottern, sang, "It is well with my soul," and Miss Helen Mottern sang
in solo, "No Night There."

About fifty friends were present and the flowers with which the casket was surrounded were unspeakably beautiful. Mr. Fenstermaker was known far and wide in the business world and his friends were lavish in tributes of sincere regard. Interment was made in Forest Lawn
Memorial Park.

AFTERNOON TEA

Next Monday afternoon the British Ambulance Society will give its regular afternoon tea from 3:30 to 5 o'clock at the restaurant formerly known as "Ye Ginger Tavern," on the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway. As this will be the day after St. Patrick's day, an Irish program will be given and shamrocks will be much in evidence. Irish songs and dances in the National costume will be given by Mrs. Nanno Woods and Misses Kathleen and Dorothy Woods. Mrs. Woods will also read some of her original poems. The proceeds of the tea will go to the wool fund. Hostesses will be Mesdames Mrs. Edward Wolley, John Hornsey, Edgar Pack, George Mitchell, Miss Ina Whitaker, Chairman.

PRETTY WEDDING

MISS GLADYS ANDERSON WEDS
FRED HUMPHREYS OF LONG BEACH

The glow of shaded lights, the gleam and fragrance of flowers, discounted the weather outside and made a charming setting for the wedding which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anderson of 203 Orange street Monday evening, when their daughter, Miss Gladys Anderson, was united in marriage to Fred Humphreys of Long Beach.

About fifty guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. B. D. Snudden. The bride in a beautiful wedding gown of white satin and Georgette crepe, elaborately embroidered and beaded, wearing a veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of bride roses and hyacinths, was attended by Miss Gladys Bronson, gowned in pink satin and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair fern. Basil Humphreys, brother of the groom, was best man.

A whistling solo by Lois Candee preceded the ceremony, and the wedding march was played by Miss Evelyn Kent.

In front of the fireplace in the living room of the pleasant Anderson home was the altar where the young people pledged their troth, banked in green ferns, as was the mantel beyond, centered with pink carnations, and tall baskets with more carnations on either side of the mantel. Elsewhere about the rooms effectively disposed were violets and carnations in profusion.

Members of the immediate family of the bride and groom who were present were of course Mr. and Mrs.
H. T. Anderson, their son Herbert
Anderson, and their daughter, Mrs.
Dora Slate, Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys, parents of the groom, and Basil
Humphreys, their son.

Members of the Lucky Thirteen, a club of young women who were classmates in High School, were guests of honor and assisted Mrs. Anderson in the serving of the refreshments of ice cream and cake. The bride's cake, one of the handsomest that has ever been seen in this city, was artistically iced and decorated in floral design of orchids and leaves.

The bride was the recipient of a lovely collection of miscellaneous
gifts of silver, linen, glass, etc., which beautify the pretty home over which she will preside in Long Beach.
Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys left before the close of the evening for
"somewhere in the United States,"
not even the bride knowing just what their destination would be. They will be absent about a week and will then return to Long Beach.

The full list of guests is not available at this time, but it included the neighbors and close friends of bride and groom and of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. Mrs. Fred Humphreys was a favorite in Glendale society and the good wishes of her large circle of friends will follow her in her new life.

RED CROSS JOTTINGS

Bad weather does not daunt the women who are working for the Glendale Red Cross Chapter. The full quota were at work Monday,
quite oblivious of the dripping skies.
In the Hospital Garments department Mrs. Sadler was in charge, and under here were working Mesdames Field, Parker, Seay, Thomas and Stephenson. They were making pajamas and bath robes.

One of the sewing machines was being used in the surgical dressings department in the manufacture of scutellus, large straight bandages
which are used to cover dressings, and which require considerable stitching. Mrs. A. L. Lawshe was in charge of that department, and the ladies were engaged in the manufacture of sponges. Under Mrs.
Lawshe were working Mesdames Anna Jenkins, A. Black, Fred Myton,
Mary E. Chester, C. Farnham, Eva
Bolen, Charles N. Erling, William J.
Masek, Carson Taylor, Nunn, A. A.
Birchfield J. M. Ray and Charles E.
Cate.

A new supply of unbleached muslin for bandages has just been received by the chapter.

Mr. Lawshe has been going over the membership list, and reports that more than two-thirds are women,
which he considers decidedly discredit to the men of Glendale. It is not a woman's organization, and elsewhere men are contributing and working side by side with women, just as the boys in our schools are knitting and working side by side with the girls. He seems to think a "Men's Drive" should be inaugurated in Glendale to wake men up to their duty and make them do their part in this big Red Cross job.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Jones, of 1543
West Seventh street, entertained with a dinner party Saturday evening in honor of the eighteenth birthday of their daughter, Miss Irene. The rooms were attractively decorated with pink carnations and violets.
Covers were laid for the following
ten: Miss Carrie Jones, Miss Elva
Jackson, Miss Nan Jones, Mrs. Emma Batz, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones,
William Jones, the honoree, and her parents. After partaking of a delicious dinner, the party enjoyed the performance at the Palace Grand Theatre. The rest of the evening was spent in music.

FARMERS MAY BE DEPENDENT UPON

The war has served to exhibit to the country at large, as the country never quite realized before, its dependence upon agriculture and the manifold problems which beset our primary industry. There is reason to believe therefore that during the coming year agriculture will have the active sympathy and co-operation of all citizens and classes who are in position to render aid. The farmers of the United States will not fail to do all that they can in this emergency and, with favorable seasons, they will produce enough to sustain the civil population, to keep our Army and Navy in full fighting vigor, and to supplement the depleted resources of the Allies. PREVENTION OF LOSSES

In these days, when the conservation of every product which contributes to our food supply means so much, every effort should be made to prevent losses in production, storage and transportation. Billions of dollars are lost every year from such preventable causes as insects, plant and animal diseases, carelessness in breeding, predatory animals, rats, mice, ground squirrels and other rodents. These losses are being held in check by present agencies and can be further greatly reduced or prevented at a cost which is insignificant when compared with the amount of damage done. Methods of controlling many of these harmful factors are now well established and should be more widely adopted. A large loss on the farms of the United States results from the improper care of manure, and its careless and ineffective use. In these times of scarcity of fertilizing materials more attention than ever should be paid to the conserving of plant food from this source.
